LEPER IS CAPTURED

TRIED TO DRAW GUN AND WAS PREPARED TO FIGHT AGAINST BEING TAKEN.
There was something doing last night in the district of Wai'alae, according to a letter received this morning by Sheriff Lanika from Deputy Sheriff Oscar Cox.
The police succeeded in capturing a leper named Opunui Alia, who has been at large for some time, and has defied all efforts to arrest him, made on various occasions. The capture was made by a posse of officers under Deputy Sheriff Cox, the principal parts being taken by Officers Kini Kalua and William Kauahikaua, who broke into the house where Opunui was and came very near being shot for their energy.
Opunui was known to be a very desperate character and was living with a Hawaiian woman named Jennie. When he saw the officers enter he started to pull a revolver, but the handcuffs were placed on his wrists before he could do so. In addition to the pistol he had a 45-70 Winchester rifle with plenty of ammunition on hand, to defy attempts to capture him.
Opunui is now in irons in the Wai'alae jail and will be kept securely till turned over to the Board of Health officers. It is known that he will make the most of any opportunity which may arise to escape, and that he will use violence to obtain his liberty. Jennie, with whom he lived, and his brother have been placed under arrest and may be prosecuted on charges of attempting to obstruct justice.

MAYOR-ELECT OF HONOLULU

HALF-HAWAIIAN WILL BE FIRST OFFICER OF THE NEW MUNICIPALITY.

(S. F. Chronicle.)

HONOLULU, November 7.—Honolulu, though it has been a capital for eighty years, will become a municipality for the first time in the last of January next year. Her first Mayor was elected last Tuesday, the Democratic candidate, Joseph J. Fern, being elected over the Republican candidate, John C. Lane, by eight votes, and over the Home Rule candidate, William C. Achi, by about 1500 votes.
Joseph James Fern, the Mayor-elect, comes of a family that ought to delight President Roosevelt's heart. He was himself the fourteenth child in his father's family, and he himself, two months ago, became the father of his fourteenth child, of whom ten survive, five boys and five girls. His eldest sister is the mother of sixteen children, and he has a brother who is the father of fifteen. In all, brothers and sisters, uncles and aunts and cousins, there are 148 living persons of the Fern blood in the Hawaiian Islands.
The patriarch and progenitor of this clan was James Fern, an Englishman who had fought under Wellington through the wars of Napoleon, and was a veteran of the battle of Waterloo. Being a shipwright, Fern readily found service with Kamehameha II, building and repairing the King's fleet. He built the first framed house on the island of Maui, and he built many of the early sugar mills of the islands also. He married a Hawaiian woman, who bore him fourteen children, and both he and his wife lived to a green old age. He died in 1880, being nearly 90 years of age.
Mayor-elect Fern has been for many years first with Wilder Steamship Company and afterwards with the Interisland Steam Navigation Company, in their operating department as paymaster, having entire charge of the hiring and discharge of the steamship and stevedoring forces.
The Mayor-elect is something of a linguist. His mother tongue is English, but, in addition, he speaks English and Portuguese, and during the campaign he made speeches in all three languages.
For the past two years Mayor-elect Fern has been a member of the Board of Supervisors of Oahu county. The city and county of Honolulu is the successor of the county of Oahu, so that Mr. Fern does not come wholly inexperienced to his new duties.

The drydock will be built on the shore of the Southeast Loch of Pearl Harbor and, stretching inland, behind the drydock site, will be erected the many large buildings, machine shops, barracks and quarters necessary to the thorough equipment of what will prove the greatest naval station in the Pacific ocean.
It was stated not long ago that it was the Schroeder site for the drydock which had been selected. This was not according to the facts. The site recommended by Engineer Parks, U. S. N., in charge of the Pearl Harbor work, is the site that has been finally approved by the Naval authorities.
produced this year under the direction of W. F. Cole, an expert from California, who has been in complete charge of the plant. The opinion is unanimous that the quality of the wine from Maui, even though only made this year, is far better than that brought to this Territory from the mainland for ordinary use.
The wine is sweet and of an excellent flavor which will be improved with age till it becomes of the finest quality. The brandy which is also distilled from the Kaupakalua grapes, is very fine and another product, which is being experimented with, is brandy from pineapples, which should prove a great treat.

SITE OF DRYDOCK

ENGINEER PARKS' SELECTION IS APPROVED BY THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Engineer Parks' selection for a site for the two-and-a-half million dollar dry dock at Pearl Harbor has been approved by the United States Navy Department and as soon as the dredging contracts have been let, plans and specifications will be made public for the construction of this immense work, a work that means the employment of hundreds of men, skilled and otherwise.

The drydock will be built on the shore of the Southeast Loch of Pearl Harbor and, stretching inland, behind the drydock site, will be erected the many large buildings, machine shops, barracks and quarters necessary to the thorough equipment of what will prove the greatest naval station in the Pacific ocean.
It was stated not long ago that it was the Schroeder site for the drydock which had been selected. This was not according to the facts. The site recommended by Engineer Parks, U. S. N., in charge of the Pearl Harbor work, is the site that has been finally approved by the Naval authorities.
